

NOVI SAD TO GO

Novi Sad attracts the visitors with its neatness, safe embeddedness beneath the Petrovaradin Fortress – the “Gibraltar on the Danube”, different languages spoken by its inhabitants, festivals, fairs, and rhythm so untypical for hasty and chaotic pace of an urban community. Even the clock at the Fortress shows hours with its big hand and warns to the fact that minutes can sometimes wait for a moment of beauty to be absorbed, or for a friendly chat, strolling along the Danube sand, joy of walking after a spring rain, or Sunday lunch to be brought to an end.

Novi Sad rhythm of authentic relaxed and “easy going” atmosphere vibrates beyond the city borders as well – at “salaš” farmsteads, the Danube “čardas” (famous fish restaurants), beaches or above the Fruška Gora vastness. The life that is being deeply inhaled here, is carried later on as the taste of warm poppy “Strudel”, and “Schneenockerl”, those that are suddenly left behind a family lunch at a “salaš” farmstead, as a reminder of the warmth of a simple stove around which the young and the old gather during the winter.

Novi Sad to go is the feeling of warmth of a spring day on the Danube or snowy whiteness traversed by horses harnessed in sleighs with chiming bells, filled with singing voices of “salaš” farmstead guests warmed up with “rakija” and wine. This is also the memory of the cosiness of conversation, or tastes and scents of the dining table filled with most diverse goodies of Vojvodina cuisine and Fruška Gora wines: Riesling, Neoplanta, Semillon, Sirmium, Slankamenka, Bermet, etc.

ČENEJ AND ITS SURROUNDINGS

If you set off along the old Subotica road to which you are taken by Sentandrejski road, and drive for some ten kilometres through a pleasant countryside, you will come to Čenej, an old Bačka village, currently known as the settlement of “salaš” farmsteads. This is where you can slow down the time at least for a moment and enjoy in the ambience typical for rural households in Vojvodina, in the shade of an orchard, with traditional food and good wines. “Salaš” farmsteads are houses with economic structures scattered in the sea of Vojvodina land. Today, they are the keepers of the spirit of the past times, slow-paced way of life, homemade food, wine, and horses running across the flatland.

Closed on Mondays. Advance booking recommended.
www.salas137.rs

Here, in the kingdom of silence, cosy and relaxed atmosphere, you will enjoy in horse riding and fiacre ride, rich offer of Vojvodina specialities and relax after that in one of authentic rooms in the “Alt Deutsch” style.

Salaš 325, Međunarodni put 325;
www.salas325.net

A restaurant of national cuisine accommodated in a beautiful rural atmosphere, with a garden filled with thick shade and quality food prepared according to traditional recipes.

The beneficiaries and pupils of ŠOSO “Milan Petrović” from Novi Sad grow flowers, spice herbs and mushrooms in this Camp and they adopt diverse daily skills – primarily in the fields of gardening and vegetable growing- through work and spending time together.

At Čenej one can also find Sports Airfield “Čenej”. Međunarodni put 257. All tourist interested in the programmes can get the information they need and apply at www.akns.rs

DIRECTION LEADING TO FRUŠKA GORA

The road to Fruška Gora will take you from the centre of the city through Petrovaradin – along Beogradska, and Preradovićeva streets. You will see the following churches along the road:

Roman Catholic Church of St. George with a convent (Štrosmajerova Street 20) dating back to 1714, Serbian Orthodox Church of St. Apostles Peter and Paul (Vladimira Nazora Street) dating back to 1922, Roman Catholic Church of the Holly Cross (Ljudevit do) dating back to 1800, Old Catholic (West Orthodox) Church of St. Anthony (Preradovićeva Street that was restored in 1937, Serbian Orthodox Church of St. Petka from 2011 (Palmotićeva bb) and Roman Catholic Parish Church of St. Rock (Preradovićeva Street 160) dating back to 1808. The Roman Catholic Church of Our Lady of the Snow at Tekije is outstanding for its significance and monumentality. It is ecumenical shrine where on August 4th and 5th the processions are held to commemorate the Battle of Vezirac (1716) and great victory of the Christian Army over the Turks. The church got its present appearance in 1881, and it was designed by Hermann Bollé.

Sremski Karlovci were mentioned in the records for the first time in 1308 as the Fortress named Karom. This small town is very important for the history of the Serbs because it was the seat of the Serbian Metropolitanate and the founding place of the Seminary, the second one in the Orthodox world, as well as the Grammar School of Sremski Karlovci, the first school of this type among the Serbs. It is known after monuments of culture and institutions that were founded mainly during the 18th and the 19th century.

Patriarch's Residence – the monumental building from the 19th century, Grammar School of Sremski Karlovci – the oldest Serbian grammar school, Orthodox Cathedral – a Baroque temple dedicated to St. Nicholas, Chapel of Peace – erected at the site where Karlovci peace treaty was signed in 1699, Karlovci Theological School – the boarding school for students of the Seminary, Fountain "Four Lions" – erected to commemorate the completion of the first public water pipeline in Karlovci. The town has a long tradition of grapevine growing and wine production.

Picnic resorts:

Stražilovo is in the closest vicinity of Sremski Karlovci, and it is a well-known picnic resort in the territory of the National Park "Fruška Gora". This is the place where the monument and the tomb of a Serbian poet Branko Radičević (1824-1853) can be seen.

Popovica is the most famous among Fruška Gora picnic resorts in the vicinity of Novi Sad. It is near Sremska Kamenica. The site is known after mountaineering centres, as well as the start/finish of Fruška Gora Marathon, the event of international significance that every year during the month of April gathers several thousands of nature and walking lovers.

The Hunters' Lodge "Tri gazde" (Fruškogorski put 228-230) is in the vicinity of Sremska Kamenica.

The estate of the family Miljević is in Stari Ledinci. The family is involved in wine growing and cattle breeding. They produce Burgundy and Traminer wines and homemade goat cheese. In addition to domestic cuisine they also offer to tourists the accommodation in original home resembling facilities, as well as in authentic rural tourist households categorised with 3*.

Monasteries:

In the vicinity of Novi Sad, in small places of Rakovac and Beočin there are the same named monasteries. According to the legend, the Serbian Orthodox Monastery Rakovac was built by Raka Milošević, a Great Chamberlain of Duke Jovan Branković. Its name appeared for the first time in 1545. It was restored by the end of the 17th century. The monastery church is dedicated to Saints Cosmas and Damian. The first written records on the Serbian Orthodox Monastery Beočin date back to the 16th century. The present monastery church, dedicated to Christ's Ascension dates back to the 18th century. The iconostasis is of great value and it is the work of Teodor Dimitrijević Kračun, Janko Halkozović and Dimitrije Bačević. The park surrounding the monastery is the protected example of landscape and garden architecture.

GASTRONOMY AND ENTERTAINMENT

Novi Sad has always been the place where food was good and meals could be eaten at a slow pace. If you wish to enjoy in autochthonous dishes, excellent wines, fruit “rakijas”, and music of “tamburica” players we recommend you to go to one of the “čardas” along the Danube or “salaš” restaurants in the nearby settlements. The wines from Fruška Gora: Riesling, Neoplanta, Semillon, Sirmium, Slankamenka, or Bermet are served traditionally with local dishes.

Tamburica players are most often in charge of good atmosphere. You can listen to them in the city, at Petrovaradin Fortress, as well as in wine cellars, “čardas” along the Danube banks, and at “salaš” restaurants.

Fresh produce of local agricultural producers can be bought at the city green markets, the most visited among which are Futoška, Limanska, and Riblja. The same produce can also be found at producers in the outskirts settlements (Futog, Begeč, Rumenka, Kovilj...). A well-known market “Moj salaš” is organised in Novi Sad every week from June to September. There you can buy produce of organic agricultural production from the surroundings salaš farmsteads.

RENT A BIKE, TAXI, TRANSFERS, GUIDE SERVICES

NS BIKE is the system that enables the visitors of Novi Sad to rent a bike at the following sites: SPENS (Sports-Business Centre "Vojvodina"), main entrance of the "Štrand" beach, in front of the Railway station, near Serbian National Theatre, in the Campus of the Novi Sad University. Before renting the bike, the visitors need to get the chip cards (single cost of unlimited duration) near SPENS, in the Tourist Information Centre in Jevrejska Street 10, or in the Public Utility Company "Parking Servis", in Filipa Višnjića Street 47 (from 08 a.m. to 04 p.m.).

There are also private companies dealing with bike renting:

Fanatic Shop 2 (Radomira Raše Radujkova 1), Tel: 400 606;

Fahrradclub „Velo“ (Bogdana Šuputa 62), Tel: 504 538.
